FOREWORD

The year 1962-63 was one of metamorphosis—a year of breaking new ground and old precedents. Some rules were innovated, others renovated. The result was a surge of school spirit; hence, The Eagle has a special meaning for this memorable year at EHS.

The members of the staff of the 1963 Le Souvenir have attempted to capture in pictures and in words the faces, the names, the events, and the memories that we will cherish forever.

IN APPRECIATION

JULIA C. BENSON

We honor Miss Benson, who retired last June after thirty-five years of faithful and dedicated service as teacher of Latin.

Through deeds and words she has exemplified the summum bonum, upright character.

A teacher of the highest standards and ideals, she has been an inspiring influence in thousands of lives; a fine lady, she has earned the respect of teachers, parents and students.

For many years to come, we wish her health and happiness, well deserved for the task she has so nobly completed.

Left: As Miss Benson listens, Dr. Donahue reads scroll expressing appreciation and best wishes of her colleagues at reception at Town House, Yonkers, on December 15, 1962.

Below: Miss Madden, Miss Rasmussen, Miss Beales, Mrs. McLaren, Miss Baer, Miss Tracy, and Miss Benson pose for a picture.

HOME SCHOOL ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE Seated: Mrs. M. Michael Cohen, Ways and Means; Mrs. Karl Katz, Ways and Means; Mrs. Alvin R. Jacobson, Co-President; Dr. Alvin R. Jacobson, Co-President; Mrs. Frank C. Siegel, Hospitality; Mrs. Albert Russo, Constitution; Mrs. Theodore Fagen, Second Vice-President; Mrs. William B. Davis, Grade Mothers. Standing: Mrs. Edward E. Fitzgerald, First Vice-President; Mr. Sidney Brody, Faculty; Mrs. Frank X. Farewell, Parliamentarian; Mr. Thomas Rohanick, Principal, Jr. High School; Mrs. Edmund S. Ward, Legislative; Mr. Frank X. Farewell, Parliamentarian; Mrs. Kenneth Fishbach, Recording Secretary; Mr. Joseph Nolin, Treasurer; Mrs. David J. London, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Eugene J. Holley, Program and Entertainment; Mrs. Stephen Voris, Program and Entertainment; Dr. Louis N. D'Ascoli, Principal, Sr. High School. Not pictured: Mr. John Randazzo, Publicity (Outside); Mrs. Arnold J. Singer, Publicity (Inside); Mrs. Harold W. Williams, Budget; Mr. Leslie D. Bernhard, Faculty.

Through the Home School Association, parents and teachers work together for the welfare of the student body.

The Home School's Annual Fiesta provides several scholarships for promising and deserving Seniors.

BOARD OF EDUCATION Seated: John A. Harvey, Leslie N. Bruchs, Kenneth L. King, President; Eli Allan Sherwood, Vice-President; Edward S. Menapace. Standing: Dr. Terrence C. Donahue, Superintendent of Schools; Michael A. Russo, Superintendent of Buildings; Julian A. Ronan, Attorney; Barbara H. Getz, Assistant Superintendent; Donald C. Tiedemann, Claude E. Glaser, Jr., John E. Nicholson, Jr., Joseph D. Brown, Kenneth J. Fishback, Treasurer; Harvey S. Bennett, Clerk; Morgan S. Fellows, Assistant Superintendent.

Through the tireless efforts of the members of the Board of Education, Eastchester has a superior educational system.

DR. LOUIS N. D'ASCOLI
Our Principal

A school has a different significance for each person in it. Each of us views our school through the ideas, thoughts, and understandings that we have developed through the years. And though each of us is looking at the same building and the same process of education that it contains, our interpretation of and our relationship to the school is different.

It is hoped that your years at Eastchester Senior High School have provided your memory with an image of a school that includes the higher human traits of warmth, understanding, sympathy, patience, charity, and justice. These God-given traits of character are the noble ones—the edifying ones—the ones that bring Man closer to his Maker and give Man the sustenance to lead his life toward happiness and fulfillment.

If your school has served no other purpose than to provide this image it will have served you well.

Cordially,

Louis N. D'Ascoli
Principal

GUIDANCE

Guidance is a service to pupils and their parents of an informational and counselling nature—a service which will result in placing more than “round” pegs in “round” holes, and which will conserve human resources. The goal is to open horizons, not to “channel people”; to point out opportunities, not to make decisions for young people.

The guidance counsellors welcome any student who desires help on his educational, vocational, or social problems.

FOOTBALL 1962

This year's EASTCHESTER football squad consisted of many veteran lettermen, and featured a fleet and shifty backfield protected by a massive offensive and defensive line. At the onset of the tough season, the prospects seemed auspicious, but many injuries in the early games and throughout the season greatly hampered the powerful EAGLES.

In an exciting debut on September 22 in EAGLE Stadium, EASTCHESTER'S scoring led by Jerry Deiso and Don Vickers was outlasted by a LAKELAND touchdown in the closing minute of play. The final tally was 20-14.

Led by co-captains George Sweeney and Fred Schieffer (pictured at left), EASTCHESTER journeyed to PLEASANTVILLE to initiate their rugged SWIAC competition. The EAGLE'S flying spirits were dampened when a magnificent eighty-five yard touchdown run by John Tortolani was nullified by a clipping penalty, and later in the first half, co-captain Sweeney suffered a head concussion. The Panthers then went on to claw the EAGLES 27-0.

Before hosting SLEEPY HOLLOW, the newest addition to SWIAC, EASTCHESTER was defeathered by a well-drilled HARRISON team 25-0. On Columbus Day, the Horsemen of SLEEPY HOLLOW galloped over the weakened EASTCHESTER eleven 31-0.

On the following Saturday, the EAGLES flew to FOXLANE, a non league foe. Unable to hold their third quarter lead, EASTCHESTER yielded to the cunning of the Foxes, 22-12.

Next, EASTCHESTER was edged in an exciting game at Scarsdale traditional rivals, 13-6. Maimed with injuries and disappointments the EAGLES succumbed to a RYE powerhouse, 41-0.

JAYVEE FOOTBALL First row: A. Usdan, J. Bruno, R. Castellano, R. Chiappa, J. Alipo, N. Barnaba, K. Kuhn, J. Vecciarelli, P. Tortolani, W. Cade, M. Chiarelli. Second row: J. Nardelli, J. Forrester, R. Ferraro, L. DiRubba, W. Besgen, S. Klein, W. Steidle, B. McHugh, R. Najman. Third row: Mr. Crawley (Coach), W. Kartzinel, R. Stone, A. Varrichio, A. Shaw, L. Gratz, T. Durnford, J. Conte, M. French, N. Cockburn, P. Kuoni (Manager).

In the season's finale, playing host to PELHAM, EASTCHESTER scored their first SWIAC touchdown with a dazzling thirty yard pass play from Roger Coliskey to George Sweeney, an honorable mention end on the all-Metropolitan football team. The Pelicans then went on to win 28-6.

Even though it was a winless season, the spirit of the team remained high to the final whistle of the last game in the tradition which has exemplified the fighting EAGLE teams during the past two decades.

The jayvee squad, captained by Louis Gratz and John Nardelli, followed their older brothers in both spirit and record, ending with a 0-8 mark.

(Asst. Mgr.), E. Ferrio (Coach), S. Rosen, L. Teich, W. Citron and B. Rothenberg (Co-Captains), T. Culhane, P. McCue, A. Marrone (Manager).

"Swish" . . . the 1962-63 basketball squad opened one of the finest seasons of the past few years. Ending with an 11-6 record, the Eagles also demonstrated exceptional team play and sportsmanship and received excellent school support.

The squad, co-captained by Barry Rothenberg and Bill Citron (pictured left), had many experienced veterans. Jumping off to a promising start, the Eagles easily defeated their first four foes before suffering a heart-breaking Rye by one point. With undimmed spirits characteristic of all Eastchester teams, the Eagles slaughtered Concordia Prep, but then suffered discouraging defeats to Sleepy Hollow, Pleasantville, and Scarsdale by 7, 3, and 2 points respectively. Still undaunted, however, Eastchester easily beat an old time rival, Tuckahoe.

With night basketball returning to the Eagle's court, the team rolled over Harrison and Rye on successive Friday nights. These evening games seemed to agree with the squad as they surprisingly upset this year's SWIAC champions, Sleepy Hollow, in their first overtime period by a score of 55-50. Flying high with this win, they next romped over the Harrison Huskies. In their league clash, the Eagles tied with Pleasantville—both being tied for second place. In the last three minutes of this game, the Eagles, trailing by ten points, edged up to within two points of a victory before the clock ran out. This gave them a third place rank in SWIAC with a 6-4 ledger.

This year's Eastchester High School representatives in the SWIAC all-star basketball game were Joe Pappalardo, Barry Rothenberg, and Bill Citron. They received the distinct honor of being selected for the All-SWIAC first team.

Because of Eastchester's outstanding play throughout the year, they received a class "A" berth in the Section 1 Tournament. In their first outing at the White Plains gym, the Eagles upset Ossining, the defending Class "A" and "Open" champions with a decisive score of 51-43. Meeting F.D. Roosevelt of Hyde Park, only two days later at the Sleepy Hollow gym, the Eagles succumbed to a well-drilled team by the score of 55-44.

Coach Petti's J. V. team, co-captained by Steve MacQuarrie and Tortolani, compiled an 8-9 overall record.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL SQUAD Kneeling: W. Steidle, J. Veciarelli, W. Binder, D. Wills, R. Villamana, K. Klein. Standing: C. Bruhl,

A. Ditrio, R. Traina, J. Tesone, P. Tortolani, S. MacQuarrie, C. Davis, M. Brooks, R. Barandes, M. Petti (Coach).

The girls of Eastchester High School are fortunate to have a wide scope of athletic activities from which to choose. Through the Girls' Leaders Club, each member is given the opportunity to assist in gym classes and intramurals as well as the chance to qualify as an official in various sports. Interscholar competition is also part of the girls' sports curriculum; good sportsmanship and teamwork are of primary importance in these events as well as in the daily activities of the school year. Gym classes offer such sports as hockey, volleyball, basketball, badminton, tennis, tumbling, and softball.
